

May start mid-DecemberAirline applies to service town

By Frank Ryan

Drayton Valley could have twice-weekly air service by mid-December.

Skoodopole Brothers Aviation Ltd. has submitted an application to the Canadian Transport Commission to operate a scheduled air service connecting Calgary, Edmonton, Drayton Valley and Rocky Mt. House.

The Calgary-based airline proposes to link the West Central Alberta communities with morning and evening departures and arrivals to both major centres. Initial operation will be two days per week with a planned expansion to a daily basis should the service be well received.

John Skoodopole, president of the 18-year old Alberta company, is confident that the interest of several major companies in Calgary and Edmonton who are active in the area and the advantage afforded the residents of Drayton-Rocky area will ensure success of the service.

It is Skoodopole Brothers' intention to use an eight-seater Piper Navaho Chieftain on the run.

People's response needed

According to company spokesman Rick McFarlane who visited Drayton Valley last week, a market survey will be carried out by the Chamber of Commerce. McFarlane says it's important to get good response from the people.

Town council has already indicated they will send a letter to the Canadian Transport Commission supporting the application.

The application which was filed July 26 is expected to produce an answer by Dec. 15. But it could be longer as applications often take eight months.

The service, according to McFarlane, would allow Drayton Valley and area residents to go into Edmonton or Calgary in the morning and return later that evening. Exact flight patterns and costs have not been worked out.

The goal of the company is to provide daily service with connections to other airlines.

Western Canada champsTigers take Twilite title

The Drayton Valley Tigers won the first annual Western Canada Twilite (35 and over) men's baseball title last weekend at Kindersley, Saskatchewan.

The Tigers won five straight games at the 12-team, three-day tournament.

They opened the western final with an exciting 7-6 win over the Kindersley Klippers with Doug Dunkle driving in the winning run in the seventh inning. The five inning game was sent into extra innings when Roger Pozzo hit a home run with one man on to tie it up in the fifth inning. Pozzo, of Calgary, was the only player the Tigers picked up following the provincials.

The Tigers made it two straight with a 5-0 win over Dinmore and wrapped up their division with an 8-1 win over Brooks.

The Tigers, coming off a provincial title last weekend at Medicine Hat where they won five straight games, dumped Toffield 4-0 in semi-final action and turned in an identical 4-0 score against the Sask-Alberta all-stars in the western final.

Adrian Meier, the general manager and sponsor of the team, said they had "an excellent defensive game."

"Pitching and hitting were our strong points," he added.

He said they had two good left handers and two good right handers pitching. Cliff Campbell pitched the final inning for the team to pick up the win.

Meier also pointed out that a big reason for the win was "the way the team worked together."

"There are no weak spots in the batting lineup," he added.

Meier, who has been involved with the team for nine years, said this is the first time they have won it all. Previously they had finished second three times in the provincials. This is also the first time a Western Canadian championship was played. Teams from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta competed for the Andy Swack Cup, named after the executive director of the Saskatchewan Baseball Association.

Meiers also congratulated the host club for the excellent facilities.

"There is probably nobody in Western Canada that can match their facilities," he explained saying they have two "beautiful" parks.

Meier also congratulated the team.

"The fellows sure did the job."

"They didn't really expect us to win," he added, "but we're a fighting bunch."

Trade fair still taking exhibitors

Exhibitors are still being accepted for the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce second annual trade fair Sept. 6-8.

Co-chairman Martin Prentice reports that all the booth space in the Centennial Civic Arena has been spoken for. In fact, there's even a small waiting list.

The only available space are the outdoor sites. "We welcome exhibitors outdoors," Prentice says.

Parking still problem

Parking complaints continue to create headaches for Drayton Valley town council.

Last month council was asked to install two-hour parking signs along 50th street between 50th avenue and 52nd avenue. While the request was denied, the bylaw enforcement officer was instructed to carry out a survey of the businesses in the area that may be affected.

The results of that survey came before town council last Thursday, and a motion by Tom McGee tabled the report. McGee wants a report on the total parking situation in town.

Councillor Bill Panice supported the motion, stating that the town was dealing with the problems piece by piece. "We have to come up with a main plan. We have to treat everyone fair and square," Panice stated.

The survey indicated that of 12 businesses contacted, seven indicated a problem. Fraser AutoBody complained about bank employees parking on the east side of 50th street while Drayton Optical said patients had complained about the lack of parking. Brendan New and Used mentioned the school buses that park near their front door.

Mayor Bob Mayhew turned the discussion over to Charlie Miner as this latest parking issue concerns his business. The parking survey revealed that employees at Mayhew Motors use the street for parking.

Approximately 70 exhibitors are booked for the trade fair which is a big improvement over last year. Many of these are using two and three booths.

"We had between 15 and 20 empty booths last year," confirms Prentice.

"Last year it was so popular, it sold itself this year," Prentice explained.

Some of the exhibitors include the RCMP, Rural Crime Watch, County of Parkland, Evergreen Tourist Association, Powerhouse Further Education, Fitness For Life, Pembina Educational Consortium, AGT, Alberta Energy and Natural Resources.

With the trade fair just four weeks away the organizers still face a major problem. The arena, site for the fair, doesn't offer enough voltage so the chamber is looking at an auxiliary diesel generator.

This year's trade fair could have some entertainment as the DV Players have expressed an interest. Their participation in the event will be confirmed later.

If anyone is interested in an outside exhibit, call Martin Prentice at 542-4447 or Kristina Little at 542-3773.

Group looks to organize SPCA

A citizens group is hoping to organize an SPCA in Drayton Valley.

Councillor Bill Panice, who has been looking into the dog problem, confirms a movement to start an SPCA. Danny Carruthers, Drayton Valley's animal control officer is one of those behind the SPCA movement.

Meanwhile, dogs continue to run loose in town with little opposition from the town.

"Everything hinges on the dog report," Panice says. The report, presently in the hands of the transportation committee, contains results of the May blitz. The extra hours in May resulted in 38 dogs being rounded up compared to 14 in a normal month.

The report is also expected to contain a new contract for Carruthers who has been working without one since the first of the year. His rate of pay, $18 per hour may also be addressed.

One aspect of the dog problem that the town is expected to look at down the road are the rates and fines. Last week council accepted a report on fees and charges with an eye to making increases.

While Panice continues to get phone calls about dog problems in town he reports things are good in his end of town. But, he did admit, that a lot of the problems are on the fringe areas of town.

The long-awaited dog report may be ready when council meets at the end of the month.

Two-price library is response to counties apathy

Dear Editor,

Following is an open letter to the residents of the counties of Parkland, Leduc and Wetaskiwin: Dear County Residents,

Due to the fact that requests for cost-sharing with the counties to Parkland, Leduc and Wetaskiwin by the Drayton Valley Municipal Library Board have been met with apathy, it has been necessary for us, as board members, to take a long, hard look at implementing a two-price system for the Drayton Valley Municipal Library.

Together, these three counties account for 30 per cent of the total users of the municipal library. With a proposed operating deficit of $60,952.38 for the current year, this leaves roughly $20,000 as their combined share of the deficit.

Refusal on the part of the counties to assume this fair share of the debt will result in the individual county user being charged under the two-price system. While town users will continue to enjoy the $2 per student, $5 per adult and $10 per family rate, ALL county users, regardless of age, will pay a flat $30 rate or $100 per family. This will doubtless present a hardship for many of our county users.

A more favorable and equitable solution would be for each and every county user to personally write or phone your county councillor or reeve. For only through this direct action on the part of the electorate will these concerns be addressed.

The Drayton Valley Municipal Library exists to serve the community at large. It has neither the desire nor the inclination to alienate our county users. We have begun an informational blitz by notifying our county users with handouts in the library. However, time is running out. We have already given second reading to the new bylaws which would see the implementation of the two-price system. Immediate action is necessary. We look to you, as concerned parties, to make your wishes known in order that ALL our users may continue to enjoy the present rates at the Drayton Valley Municipal Library.

Thank you for your prompt consideration in this matter.

Many affected by new county lines

Dear Editor,

I would like to add a further notation to the letter from Dene Meraw, vice-chairman, Yes Group, Western Ratepayers.

When first approached about the possible formation of a new county, I felt as many of you perhaps feel, what's the use? If the government decides to do it, it will happen; if not, it won't. While this is undoubtedly true, it would be nice to have a substantial membership of ratepayers when a new county becomes a reality. By having this, we should be able to have a good deal of input in many areas.

I have been selling membership tickets for a couple of weeks now and would be very happy if I could say everyone approached said "yes". This of course isn't so. Many people have no opinion on this very important issue and feel they won't be affected.

Guess again. If you go off the highway within a radius of 30 miles at least and use the roads in the area, it affects you. If you have children, grandchildren, nieces or nephews going to school, it affects you. Compare what we have in the area proposed for a new county with the eastern ends of Leduc and Parkland. Take a drive and see the roads and schools, particularly for yourself and then see if maybe just maybe - you should become involved. Membership fees are $2 per person.

Weekly's strength

Correspondent's work not all trivia

The rural weekly newspaper deals with the intimate things in its subscribers' lives as it tries to satisfy their innate curiosity about the activities of their peers. Thus it contains a number of columns of personal items which pertain only to relatively small circles of people who are frequently in face-to-face contact. To an outsider these items are trivia but they are read avidly in the communities they are intended for.

This is one of the great strengths of the weekly; these columns make it welcome like no other publication in the homes of its circulation area. Thus the rural correspondent, taken so much for granted, is most important to her newspaper's readership. Gathering the news and presenting it is time consuming, especially now in these days of endless activity and affluence that keeps people constantly on the move. The good correspondent requires an extraordinary amount of tact and genuine interest in people.

The job's rewards? Not appreciation of her peers and certainly not the remuneration; perhaps the realization that comes occasionally that she is helping to give her readers a sense of community. That should be enough.

Hire-A-Student office closes

It has been a busy season for the Hire-A-Student office which closes tomorrow (Thursday).

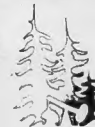

Heather Parker, coordinator at the Drayton Valley office, is pleased with the work done through the office this year.

"We got good feedback from pretty well all the employers," she commented.

The office has been a lot more active this year, with referrals of students to jobs being 300 as of the end of July. This is almost five times as many as last year.

As well, Parker said the Drayton Valley office is one of the busiest out of the six offices in the South Edmonton district.

Parker is leaving for a tour of Greece with four friends this fall. In January she will return to the University of Alberta to complete her education in psychology and sociology.

Report on arena problems to council kept secret

How serious are the problems at the Centennial Civic Arena in Drayton Valley?

For the past six months a lot has been said about the lack of adequate washrooms, the need for new puck boards and a public address system. Add to that word of structural, foundation and now roof problems.

However, the seriousness of those problems remain a secret. The Western Review attempted to get a copy of the consultant's report on the arena so the public would know just what is wrong, and was told by the mayor that the report is confidential.

That alone leaves one to believe that the problems at the arena should be addressed before the facility opens for business in five weeks.

The arena is a busy facility. The users, young and old alike, surely want to know how safe the structure is.

We can do without washrooms, a new P.A. and puck boards if the budget doesn't permit it, but when one starts talking about foundation, structural and roof problems - that's another ball game.

Town council has indicated they don't want to get into the problems at the Centennial Civic Arena, mainly due to the costs. But, in the name of public safety, don't we all want to know if the building is safe?

Problems at the arena have been ignored too long.

Provides funds to bantam 'A' Oilers

Thanks go to Legion for interest in the community

The Royal Canadian Legion in Drayton Valley played a major role in sending the Anxex Oilers to the Western Canada ball finals last weekend.

Within 48 hours of the Oilers winning the bantam "A" provincial title, the Legion executive called an emergency meeting. Jumping on the youth bandwagon as they so often do in this community, the Legion gave the team $5,000.

While you have to be pleased with the Oilers' success on the baseball field, we're very fortunate to have the Legion. Last year they turned $181,000 back into the community with about $45,000 of that going to help sports.

Add to the Legion donation about $2,500 and the Oilers had the money they needed to pay their airfare bill.

One aspect of the Legion donation that was different was their recognition of the coaching staff. Ed Hutzal, Al Fedorus and Alex Waldron. The $5,000 included funds for the coaches to take their wives.

To the Legion...THANKS for your continued interest in the community.

Editor's Notes

The success of the Anxex Oilers and the Twilite Tigers, both provincial baseball champs, shouldn't go unnoticed. The town has been talking about recognizing athletic achievement. While many outstanding accomplishments have already passed, what better place to start than with two ball teams.

The town should be considering 'certificates of appreciation' or giving some thought to a once-a-year banquet where all our athletic participants can be thanked properly. If the town wants someone to coordinate this, my phone number is in the book.

One rumor making the rounds after the Oilers' win was that the Alberta Baseball Association picked up their expenses to the western finals. That isn't true. The ABA only gave the Oilers $400. And that is disgusting in itself. It's time the ABA found a source to help teams who qualify for the Western Canada or nationals.

The Oilers can consider themselves fortunate that groups like the Legion came to their aid. In Fort Saskatchewan, where their team won the bison title and a trip to Richmond, B.C., not a penny could be raised. So the team had to bus it instead of enjoying the luxury of flying.

The town is to be thanked for their donation of 90 pins, given to the four participating teams at the provincials and the 100 pins and brochures the team took to B.C. Councillor Tom McGee and Riggy officially welcomed all the visitors to the provincials.

And, the Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association is to be commended for all the work they did on the new diamond at West Valley Park. A bouquet to Ginny Kuzek and John Sullivan for all their behind-the-scenes work at the provincials.

In all, it was a weekend that definitely put Drayton Valley on the map.

Oilers take silver in bantam 'A' championship in B.C.

The Andex Oilers, from Drayton Valley, are the second best bantam baseball team in Western Canada.

The Oilers took a silver medal at the Western Canadian Bantam A baseball championships in North Delta, B.C. on the weekend.

They lost 3-0 to the North Delta squad in the final game to claim the silver. They had lost earlier to North Delta 4-2 in the round robin and then beat Saskatchewan 7-2. They also beat Richmond 9-7 and Brandon, Manitoba 10-4 to take a 3-1 won-loss record into the final.

North Delta qualified for the final with an identical three and one record. They lost 4-1 to Richmond, then beat Drayton Valley, then dumped Saskatchewan 17-6 and Manitoba 12-0.

The North Delta pitcher threw a two-hitter in the final against the Oilers.

"The boys played super defensive but in the last game we couldn't get the bats going," said manager Al Fedorus from his Surrey hotel room following Sunday's final.

In the final game the only two hits the Oilers had came off a double by Darren Fedorus and a single by Greg Pankewicz.

The game was clouded by two "questionable" calls by the first base umpire who had a son on the North Delta team. The Alberta Baseball Association will be looking into the situation.

"Second in Western Canada is nothing to be frowned upon," Fedorus said.

He called the tournament "a good learning experience" and added "the boys have a real good future as far as baseball."

Fedorus also said they would like to thank all the parents and people that supported them.

"The town of Drayton Valley can be awful proud they have a bunch of athletes of the calibre they do have," Fedorus added.

Some of the other highlights for the Drayton Valley team was Darren Fedorus going eight for 14 at the plate to lead the hitters. In addition Mark Randall pitched 12 innings and picked up two saves. Another highlight came with Murray Duval being named the all-star left fielder for the tournament.

The team returned to Drayton Valley late Monday night after spending the day site-seeing around North Delta.

Official welcome

Manpower office holds open house

An 'open house' to officially welcome the Canada Employment and Immigration Centre to Drayton Valley will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 20.

The informative get together will be held in the conference room at the Provincial Building starting at 10 a.m.

The public is invited to share coffee and doughnuts with representatives of Canada Employment and Immigration. And, to find out more about their service, which will come to Drayton Valley next month.

Canada Employment and Immigration will offer one day a week service to Drayton Valley and area residents starting on Monday, Sept. 9.

Joe MacLellan, executive director of the Pembina Educational Consortium, who was instrumental in getting the new service, hopes people who will benefit from the program will turn out next Tuesday.

Study on shopping

Selection and prices cited as major shopping problem

By Frank Ryan

Selection and prices are chasing shoppers out of Drayton Valley.

According to a market research done by the Grant MacEwan Community College program at the Pembina Educational Consortium, selection accounts for 37 per cent and pricing 38 per cent of the reasons given by people who shop outside of Drayton Valley.

Quality makes up another 19 per cent and service at 11 per cent round out the top four reasons given in the research project carried out in April and May of this year.

Of the people who shop outside of Drayton Valley, the researchers found out that 77 per cent

Danny Thompson, left, Legion sports chairman, Al Fedorus, Alex Waldron, Ed Hutzal and Legion president Lou Matlock with $5,000 check given to bantam Andex Oilers.

Lack of money delays work at arena

Major renovations at the Centennial Civic Arena in Drayton Valley are not expected to be done before the 1985-86 season starts.

Money, or the lack of it, is the main reason according to Mayor Bob Mayhew. Originally, the town had planned to match a $50,000 grant available through the community recreation cultural program to do some of the work at the arena. But the mayor says, "other things have come up."

Problems at the 18-year-old sports facility include a need for improved washrooms, new puck boards, a better public address system, structural, foundation and roof concerns. All those problems are listed in a consultant's study of the facility. A report the mayor says is confidential.

"We'll do what we can. We have no time line," Mayhew says.

If money for arena repairs isn't available through the grant program, it's not known where the town will find the funds.

"I'm against debenture borrowing, especially for repairs," the mayor says.

The arena ice plant is scheduled to be turned on Sept. 13 with ice making to start three days later and a full schedule set for the following week.

patronize Edmonton with Red Deer, Calgary and surrounding towns making up the balance.

The report also included nine recommendations, which were remarks made by the 153 of a possible 250 questionnaires that were part of the project.

These included more competitive pricing, better selection of goods, better customer service, more parking facilities, a better or improved grocery store, more recreational facilities, a new furniture store, more specialty stores and a new shoe store.

The data used in the project was obtained by asking people to recall their expenditures and perceived attitudes for the previous calendar year.

The questionnaires asked for expenditure patterns and the level of satisfaction received in the purchase of goods and services within the town in durables, groceries, clothing, entertainment, services and professional services.

Respondents surveyed were encouraged to express their opinions as to what additional services were required for Drayton Valley, and what the present businesses in town could do to serve the consumer better.

According to the report, 60 per cent of the 153 respondents made furniture purchases out of Drayton Valley. This was followed by appliances (50%), stereos and TVs (49%), vehicles (45%), personal health and beauty (25%), produce and dairy (21%), dry and canned goods (19%), and meat (15%).

Tory candidate visits

Ghitter would wait on election

Tory leadership hopeful Ron Ghitter visited Drayton Valley last Friday night.

Ghitter, the first of three leadership candidates that have been invited to Drayton Valley, met with the local Progressive Conservative directors and executive.

Don Getty, the former Edmonton Eskimo quarterback who is the front runner in the three-man race is scheduled to visit Drayton Valley Aug. 19. That's the same day the local PCs will meet to

Teen beach bash

Busing arranged

Busing is being arranged for the County of Parkland Parks and Recreation teen beach bash Aug. 21 at Wabamun provincial park.

Ed Haykowski, west end coordinator for the county says 39 teens from the Rocky Rapids/Drayton Valley area have already expressed an interest. Buses will likely be organized in Drayton Valley, making stops along the way.

The beach bash from 2 to 9 p.m. is open to teens 13 to 18 years of age.

Activities include a disc jockey from CHED and music by Crystal Sound from 6 to 9 p.m. Day's activities will also include earthball, parachute games, sandcastle building, volleyball, frisbee throwing, water races, caricaturist and mime artist.

Teens interested in attending are asked to phone 963-2231, extension 350 in Stony Plain or 542-4632 in Drayton Valley.

Playground gear for pool

A $14,000 playground set is scheduled to be installed on the old pool site in Drayton Valley this week.

Calvin Bennefield, recreation coordinator, said the unit will be a "creative playground" made of wood and similar in design to the equipment at Eldorado Elementary school.

"It's a pretty good structure," commented Bennefield.

Additional work could include sand-blasting the deck and putting in benches.

Bennefield said the building on the location will have a meeting room constructed on one side with storage space taking up the other side.

The cost of $14,000 is for the equipment itself, and sand to be put around the structure is being priced now, explained Bennefield.

select their 20 delegates for the Thanksgiving weekend Tory leadership convention.

It's not known if the third man in the race, Julian Kozlak, will visit Drayton Valley. However, Drayton Valley MLA Shirley Gripps has confirmed that she is supporting Kozlak.

Ghitter, a Calgary lawyer and former MLA, says he will wait awhile for a provincial election if elected Tory boss. "I'd wait awhile; maybe six months," he says.

If successful on Thanksgiving weekend, Ghitter says he will run in a rural riding. "I think the premier should come from the country," Ghitter added. In the same breath, the Edmonton native said he hadn't given any thought to which riding he would run in.

The Tory hopeful does have some definite thoughts on issues facing Albertans.

He feels liquor should be allowed in provincial parks, he's not in favor of seat belt legislation, if elected premier he will look into the lack of money for amateur sports, he's not opposed to cruise missile testing in Alberta and because of the number of accidents, feels the Dayliner rail service must go, although that is a federal responsibility.

As premier, he will direct his immediate attention to the agricultural problems in the province. He also feels the PC party needs some new blood. "There's a need for refreshing ideas, new talent," Ghitter explained.

Ghitter's Friday evening stop in Drayton Valley was part of a hectic day's schedule that included meetings in Edmonton, Barrhead and Whitecourt.

The top prize in the Tomahawk rodeo on the weekend went to a local cowboy, Ron Solomon of Tomahawk.

Solomon rode Spic & Span to tie for first with Hyle's Dean McDonald on Renegade in the bull riding, with scores of 73. Darren Eno of Bentley finished third in bull riding with a 69 on Renegade. Solomon also tied for fourth in the bareback event with Drayton Valley's Barry Minault. Solomon was aboard Thumbtack and Minault rode Dr. Pepper to scores of 69.

Wayne Fritz of Warburg won the bareback event on Mousetrap with a 71 while Boyd Solomon from Tomahawk took second with a 70 on Handyman.

In the saddle bronc the winner was Hyle's Bill McDonald on Pickpocket with a 68 while Bill Sands of Fawcett scored a 62 on Sharecropper. Sands tied with Joe Larsback of Eureka River on Piledriver.

In the calf roping the winner was Marvin Branden of Vega with a 12.9-second tie. Ronald Schmidt of Barrhead took second with a 14.0 tie. Everett Ness, of Drayton Valley, and Vega's Wayne Branden tied for first with scores of 66 in the boys cow riding.

In the team roping the winners were Ron Sullivan and Ross Bohnet of Mayerthorpe with a 7.5 second run. Glen Arthur and Wayne Fischer, also of Mayerthorpe, took second with a 9.5 second run.

In steer wrestling the winner was Seba Beach's John Scott with a 9.6 second run. Lance Hartman from Drayton Valley got second.

Jackie Shirley of Edson and Crystal Palmer of Gibbons tied in the ladies barrels with runs of 15.6 seconds. Adele Lalonde from Hinton took third with a 15.8 second run.

Leslie Schultz of Drayton Valley won the junior barrel race with a time of 14.9. Mark Shirley of Edson took second with a 16.4.

In the wild cow milking the winner was Ken Mulyk of Drayton Valley. Darrel Ditchuk's team won the wild horse race. In the bloomer race the winners were Karen Tucker, Shirley Ditchuk and Linda McGinn.

Despite cold weather, good crowds turned out for both performances.

Janishewski second at nationals

Brad Janishewski did it.

The funny car driver from Drayton Valley finished second in the Summer Nationals in Calgary recently.

Janishewski was coming back after being sidelined for 10 months. He was involved in a car accident and was told he wouldn't walk for a year. But five months later he is back in racing form again.

"It was just like the old days, it felt real good," Janishewski said.

"It all came back from last year but I forgot how rough it was," he added.

Brad Janishewski

In the first race of the Summer Nationals he got a quick reminder of the dangers of racing. He said he got a little excited and hit the chutes but nothing happened. Janishewski said he then bounced along before the chutes grabbed. When they did come out he was thrown back and his foot hit the throttle catapulting the car forward.

But once in the final round he did alright.

Janishewski ran the final eight-mile race in 4.880 seconds just behind Vic Phillips of San Diego with a 4.796 second run.

"We went through the lights side by side. I looked over at him and he looked over at me," Janishewski explained saying that neither of them knew who had won it was so close.

"Nine one-hundredths of a second is inches," he added.

"But he clearly beat me out; he had the better car and more power but our guys did OK for what we had."

Jim Murray, a dairy farmer in Alsike, is Janishewski's new crew chief.

"The car was set perfect," Janishewski said he felt no shame in losing to a driver like Vic Phillips. They have "mega-sponsors" and it's an accomplishment even to try "and run with them" he added.

But the race left him without a car. His 1983 Corvette is "pretty dead" right now and he plans to "tear it down" and try and rebuild it. In addition, he doesn't have a sponsor which means he won't be able to go to the World Finals in Spokane this weekend.

So for now he plans to "hang around" Drayton Valley.

But he is happy that he is back into racing and re-living the feeling off scraping his "face off the back of the seat."

Western Review Sports Results

Summer Games results

Local athletes did quite well in the Alberta Summer Games held in Ft. McMurray last weekend.

Gina Hesselbarth and Whitney Barker won a bronze medal in the junior women's team golf. The golf tournament was originally planned to be 36 holes but the weather forced the organizers to reduce it to just 18. Hesselbarth and Barker teamed up with Laurie Hamstra from Sherwood Park and Karen Thom from St. Albert to win the team medal. Hesselbarth said they were in second last place out of the eight teams after the first day but came back to take third on the final nine holes.

Three other local athletes went to compete in the swimming events at the games. Kelly Graham captured a bronze in the free-style relay and placed seventh in the medley relay. Steven Oscar placed sixth in the breast-stroke, fifth in the free-style relay and fourth in the medley relay. Dawn Urchyshyn finished second in the free-style relay but her team was disqualified.

Swimmers from the Black Gold/Yellowhead zone which includes Drayton Valley won 20 out of the 29 swim races and also took 10 silver and nine bronze medals in swimming.

Overall the Black Gold/Yellowhead zone won the summer games capturing 42 golds, 24 silvers and 34 bronze medals.

Tourney rained out

The 28-team Denco Trees and Legionettes fastball tournament booked for last weekend was called off due to poor field conditions. The tourney will not be re-scheduled.

Tuftin resting horse

Iris Tuftin is currently sitting in sixth place in the ladies barrel racing standings.

Tuftin, from Drayton Valley, has $6,296 well behind the leader Rayel Robinson from Sundre with $11,278.

Tuftin says she is resting her horse right now but will participate in the Alexander rodeo on August 24 and 25.

Tuftin says she may also go in the Lacombe rodeo in the end of September.

The top 10 qualify for the finals in November and currently 10th place is held by Elaine Watt with just $3,737.

Fall completion date

New track is shaping up

The new $100,000 track at Frank Maddock High School is taking shape.

The project is expected to be completed by the fall and high school track coach Rick Watrich is looking forward to the use of the new facility.

"It should improve our track and field team," Watrich explained.

He hopes the improved track will be "incentive for some of the kids to compete."

The new shale track will mean they can have eight running lanes compared to the previous five on the old track.

Watrich added they are trying to reach the standards of the rest of the county with the project.

The project also calls for shot put, discus and javelin sites in addition to the two baseball diamonds. The track itself will feature two 100-metre straightaways.

Watrich pointed out the possibility of Frank Maddock High School hosting a track meet with the new facility.

"Probably we'll be able to have one."

He also pointed out that other people will be able to use the new track too, including the junior high schools.

Overall he is pleased with the track.

"It's good to see," he explains.

Rick Watrich tries out the old school track while in the background machines are leveling out a spot for the shot put and discus areas for the new track project.

Local course to host golf Charity Classic

The Drayton Valley golf course will be the host site for the 1985 Cowboy (Bill) Plett Charity Classic.

About 90 golfers will participate in the August 28th tournament including several members of the Edmonton Oilers. Exact names of the Oilers will be announced shortly.

The day starts with an 8:30 breakfast and an 11 a.m. tee-off with the prizes being awarded at about 5 p.m.

Proceeds from the tournament will go to local charities.

Organizers are expecting several other sports celebrities to participate in the one-day event.

The tournament field is already full but they are inviting the public to watch.

Triathlon cancelled

The triathlon scheduled for Aug. 10 in Seba Beach was cancelled.

Andrew Millar, Seba Beach's recreation director, said it was called off because of lack of interest.

The event would have seen competitors swim

500 metres then cycle 15 km and finally run 8 km.

Another event in the Seba Beach area which they are hoping will go on is the teen golf tournament on August 15.

Participants will tee-off at 10 a.m. from the Pine Ridge golf course in Seba Beach.

Pankewicz places second in Seattle

Patti Pankewicz couldn't have done much better in her first figure skating competition.

The 10-year-old Drayton Valley native placed second in a recent figure skating meet in Seattle, Washington.

But she wasn't second by much, losing out by just one-tenth of a point to the winner from Alaska. She was competing in the 10-and-under age group against 25 other girls in the preliminary ladies group. About 300 competitors from all across the United States and Western Canada attended the 19th annual Puget Sound Interclub competition.

"I thought I was going to get fifth," said Pankewicz who has been figure skating for six years.

She added that it was her first competition and she had been in Victoria for six weeks prior to the Seattle event.

"My coach in B.C. took me there," said Pankewicz, who was skating for the Raguet Club in the competition.

Pankewicz spent six hours on the ice daily practicing her techniques during the six-week stint in Victoria.

With her efforts she is hoping to follow in her brother Doug's footsteps. Doug, 21, has been skating with the Ice Capades for the last two years.

Patti says she hopes someday "to be where he is right now."

Currently she is on her third figure, her senior bronze freeskate and her junior silver dance.

She pointed out that she puts in several hours daily practicing figure skating.

"I go in Drayton Valley at four; I get off school at 3:45 and have 15 minutes to get ready," she said.

But she also rises in the early morning to go for a 6 a.m. skate everyday but Monday.

The practicing must be paying off if her latest

Patti Pankewicz displays her plaque for placing second in the Seattle figure skating competition. result is any indication, even though it was "quite a surprise" to her to finish second.

Indoor soccer during winter

This December when it's freezing outside Simon Kelly will be thinking about soccer.

Kelly, who is president of the local men's soccer league and goalie for the Ceasars, is hoping to organize an indoor soccer league.

Kelly hopes the league will start in December and run until the first part of April.

He is aiming for a September registration for the league that will play once a week in the Frank Maddock High School gym. Kelly said each team will consist of eight players with six playing, including the goalie, like hockey.

He added there will be a "slight registration" fee to cover the costs of renting the gym.

The indoor game is "faster paced" and more "end-to-end" action than the outdoor game Kelly explained adding that the ball was softer. The nets are also smaller in the indoor variety and they use the basketball key area as the goal area.

If there is enough interest the league will definitely run, he pointed out.

"It's just something else (offered)" Kelly said

Soccer format may change

If the league president has his way, next year will be different for local men's soccer.

Simon Kelly, president of the Central Alberta Rural Town Soccer league, says he hopes next season won't have a summer break.

"Most of the teams feel it's detrimental to break the season up," Kelly said.

A majority vote will decide the issue and Kelly expects that next season there won't be a break during the summer.

In other soccer news the Ceasars will be starting up the second half of their season this weekend with a game in Mayerthorpe.

They will be joined in the second half by Chris Brown, a former Ceasar who moved to Slave Lake. Brown is still eligible to play and will join the team in Mayerthorpe.

On a related matter Kelly is concerned about the what is happening with the high school soccer field. On Sept. 28 eight teams will be coming to Drayton Valley for the league finals and banquet. Kelly said he needs both the high school and West Valley Park fields for the finals.

Ball playoff

The Oilfield Baseball League will hold their playoff tournament this weekend at the Easyford diamond.

Flag football league almost ready

The Pembina Flag Football league is almost ready to go.

According to league president, Jordy Ketchum, the league will soon be drawing up its schedule for the season which will begin in September.

"I'm looking forward to an excellent season," he added.

Ketchum pointed out that any teams interested in joining the league should contact him before Aug. 15. Also any individuals wanting to participate should let him know before the middle of September.

"Tentatively" the league now has four teams, mostly from a "consistent local group."

But even though the league is taking shape Ketchum is still concerned about referees.

"My only concern is hoping to get two or three refs that don't have anything to do with playing and then leave them in charge of refing," he said.

Ketchum says he is looking for people that know a little about the game and he "can train them."

But while the hunt for refs continues the league starting date in late September is nearing.

"We won't say no to any teams that want to get in," Ketchum adds.

Anyone interested can contact Jordy Ketchum at 542-3223 (work) or 542-2013 (home).

Local Junior Forest Wardens attend national campout

By Wayne Pick
Drayton Valley Junior Forest Wardens attended the national campout July 7-13 in Kananas Country.

Junior wardens were there from all over Canada, from as far north as Whitehorse, and from Victoria to St. Johns, New Brunswick.

The skills challenge is composed of 10 events: mapping and orienteering, forest identification, knot application, tree identification, fire starting, shelter construction, physical challenges, survival first aid, course time and team cooperation.

The skill challenge is to provide a format for an exciting, challenging way for every Junior Forest Warden to test his/her learned skills and to develop group participation and leadership within clubs, region all and throughout the provinces.

The emphasis of the challenge, whether they are mental or physical, will be on basic forestry and woods travel skills. These skills are essential in developing a level of preparedness that each warden must have to safely participate in any outdoor-orientated activity.

Tours, instructional classes, games and an introduction into the new Forestry Adventure Program were a very small part of the campout. There were demonstrations from the Alberta Forestry fire fighting teams as well as drops from the water bombers' initial attack crews. The wardens learned how a possible forest fire is fought from start to finish.

Legion upset over no bids

Renovations planned for the Royal Canadian Legion in Drayton Valley will likely have out-of-town contractors.

In fact, the Legion is upset over the lack of local contractors submitting bids on the renovations. As a result, bids will be accepted from contractors elsewhere.

According to Legion president Lou Matlock, four sets of specs and blue prints were picked up, but never returned. "Are they that busy?" Matlock asks.

Sources in the construction field say local outfits are busy. Apparently this has been a long summer for work. The unidentified source says if the Legion wants to use local contractors, they might consider delaying the work until late September or October.

Besides the Legion, other businesses and individuals have experienced trouble getting such things as sidewalk and masonry work done.

The highlight of the demonstration was when the 4-Star helicopter, which drops an eight-member crew into the fire, landed and the wardens had a first-hand chance to see inside the chopper and talk to the fire crew. The Park Rescue Team was also there to show and explain the procedures used for rescuing people on mountains and rivers. It was great to see the Alberta government's concern for the welfare of people using our wilderness areas.

The leaders had the opportunity to attend classes to improve their skills and knowledge in order to pass it on to the wardens.

The members who attended were Danny Lord, Robert Evert, Lenard Johnson, Terri

NDP are confident

The Drayton Valley NDP provincial constituency association are confident they can defeat MLA Shirley Cripps in the next election.

"We have a good chance of defeating her," association vice-president Zigmund Springer, one issue that Springer and his group is upset with the MLA about, are the problems at the Aliske Correctional Centre.

The local NDP association held an information meeting last week, at which times for a possible spring provincial election were discussed. Some of the items discussed by the 15 people who attended included the agricultural problems in the province today, education and the Heritage fund. The group also heard from Edmonton's Alex McEachern.

Tonight (Wednesday) the NDP will hold another meeting in the community hall in Warburg starting at 8 p.m. Derek Fox of Vegreville, the NDP's agricultural critic, will be the guest speaker.

Wild-Card half partner

Clemmer gives his all to projects

Bruce Clemmer says he does not belong to too many organizations.

People

Besides being a half-partner in Wild Card Enterprises, an oilfield services company in Drayton Valley, he belongs to the Chamber of Commerce (chairman of their tourist committee), is a director on the Evergreen Tourist Association and is an active member of the curling club executive. He has also been known to be involved in flag and minor football.

And, he has a wife, Donna; and a 2½ year old daughter, Megan.

"You can get too many irons on the fire," he said. As a result, he tries not to take on too much.

Service fair idea studied by group

A study is underway in the region to determine the possibilities of a service fair.

The Yellowhead Economic Council, an advisory group to the Right Hon. Joe Clark, MP for Yellowhead, is conducting the study.

A location and a date for the proposed product and service fair hasn't been determined. The study is expected to be completed in September.

Area business, towns and chamber of commerce are being contacted on the feasibility of such an event.

The study will determine the level of interest in such an event, components which should be allowed to participate, suggested dates and locations. In addition, the survey will attempt to define the actual market that such an event would be directed at.

Unlike a community trade fair which exhibits local businesses, and which is directed at local consumers, a product and service fair would feature goods and services that are actual home industries, and which may be of interest to others outside the home community.

At such an event, not only would potential buyers be identified, but networking and contacts would be a very important part of the process. As an example a parts manufacturer might meet a farm equipment repair person who currently imports his parts from another location. It might be possible for him to obtain his parts right within Yellowhead, in faster time and at reduced costs.

In the survey, respondents will be asked if they would welcome government representatives who could provide advisory and assistance services to business. The survey also asks if business people would welcome the offering of seminars at the fair on business matters.

The council has advised that if you did not receive a questionnaire, they would welcome your comments. Letters should be sent to the Right Hon. Joe Clark, PC MP, Box 128, Edmonton, AB, T0E 0P0. No postage is required.

at once. But what is left, Clemmer gives his all. A person can only go on with extra activities if it does not hurt their family or work, Clemmer stated, but he admitted it "hurts the golf game a little bit, though."

Since beginning Wild Card with his partner, Wyatt Gilbertson, in Clemmer's garage in 1977, the company has grown to employ 20 people full time and another eight to 10 during the summer. Wild Card services some 50 local oil-related companies in the area.

Clemmer handles the personnel and the sales while Gilbertson handles the technical aspects as well as most of the paper work.

However, Clemmer did say he has to keep up with the technical aspects to stay in business. And with the new technology coming into the oil field, Wild Card has to keep up with the times, "or you never catch up," said Clemmer.

Though the business is still expanding, it is not as fast as it has been. Clemmer recounted how, during the boom, CBC came up and did a 30 second spot on the company. But a new oilfield burst onto the scene and the spot "was never seen."

Before starting Wild Card, Clemmer worked for Mobil Oil for nine years, and has worked in the oil industry since graduating from high school.

Originally from the Alder Flats and Winfield areas, Clemmer considers himself to be on home turf in the Drayton Valley area.

In fact, his partner, Wyatt, came from Buck Lake and the two of them used to play against each other in school sports.

One of his prides with the company is the people. "Your people-power is your biggest asset," he commented. The company motto, "do it right the first time" is becoming more real all the time, Clemmer said.

Beehive develops park site

There's a new park in Drayton Valley.

The Drayton Valley Association for the Developmentally Handicapped have opened a park behind the Beehive on 50th Avenue.

The intent of the park, to be officially named later, is to provide a place for staff and area business people to enjoy lunch.

Several groups in town donated to the park.

Chet's Landscaping Service helped with the sod, levelling and put in trees. Mobil Oil donated the WPE, Eagle Ready Concrete gave cement and Amoco did the welding for the fence; Valley Concrete donated the gravel for the parking lot and the town agreed to a 25-year lease on the .28 acre site.

Money for the other extras in the park came from the association's charity auction held earlier in the year.

"This is a big improvement over the rock pile and public eyesore it used to be," stated association executive director Ron Szala during lunch with The Western Review staff recently.

"We hope people in the area, who usually stay at the office for lunch, will come over and use this park," Szala added.

Staff enjoy new park.

Industrial Road route to be changed

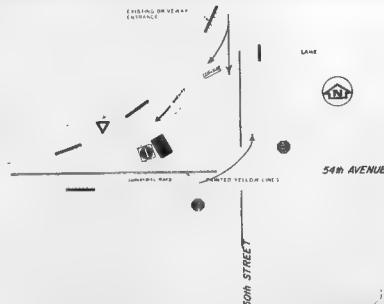

This fall the left turn lane from Industrial Road onto 50th Street in Drayton Valley will be eliminated.

Sometime in September, the town will paint in yellow lines to "define the lane" and only allow traffic turning right from 50th Street onto Industrial Road to use the lane, said town engineer, Manjeet Saran.

Drivers wanting to turn left from Industrial Road will then have to go straight to the intersection.

A serious accident at the site last month was "probably a factor" in town council moving to make the change in the road, said Saran. Though he also said council has been considering the action since last year.

Also, a report from Alberta Transportation "says this is the way to go" on that corner, the town engineer added.

Map shows road changes.

"I would say it would be a little more safe on the corner," commented Saran.

 DRAGON VALLEY
MUNICIPAL LIBRARY

By Lola Peterson
Librarian

"THINKING MUSCLES" IN SHAPE?

Most of us try to keep our physical bodies limber, muscles supple and measurements at a healthy minimum. Or at least we worry about it. But what about our minds? Do you try to keep your thinking machine supple — able to absorb new thoughts and new ideas? Is your mind really in shape to keep up with what's new in this fast-changing world?

Isn't it funny how many of us will join the latest diet or physical fitness fad, yet let it slip some when it comes to keeping our minds sharp and alert?

Drayton Valley Municipal Library has nourishment for your "mental muscles". Your library can furnish you with a steady diet of mental nutrition and new ideas. This mental stimulation is yours as a lifelong matter when you get the "library habit".

Let your library help tone up those thinking muscles. Stay in shape to keep up with the world around you — jog to your library soon. Remember the library is on summer schedule now, so check the hours before you grab your runners! You can call the library anytime at 542-2228 and the answering service will give you the hours open and other information.

NEW PAPERBACKS NOW LISTED

Have you noticed your library is now posting lists of all the new paperback books? We hope this added service will be helpful to patrons looking for the latest arrivals. Other changes in the paperback sections which might help you include:

Children's paperbacks are now shelved on the bottom shelves of each section in the children's area according to the author's last name initial. For example, to locate the paperback edition of the book Roselyn Rabbit Returns by Elizabeth Crocker, look on the bottom shelf of the C section of children's area.

More good news! By the end of summer all children's paperbacks will be fully carded. This means you will be able to check the card catalogue (see Children's Paperbacks drawer) and easily locate the book wanted.

Young adult paperback section has now been added especially for the upper teenage reading interest level. We plan to include many of the new popular fantasy fiction paperbacks. If you would like to suggest titles and authors for this section, let your library know. It saves time if you bring in a list of titles suggested. We will try our best to get them!

Junior paperback section has many new books added this summer. Have you checked them out recently? Any favorite authors or titles you would like in this section? Bring in your requests!

Adult paperbacks continue to stock the current top ten best-sellers each week. Suggestions are welcome!

Town Council

Record meeting

It only took Drayton Valley town councillors 38 minutes to deal with last week's agenda.

The meeting, which started at 8:30 a.m. and ended at 9:08 with a coffee break, was the shortest meeting any of the councillors could ever remember.

Council only dealt with 17 items. The meeting ended so early that Councillor Charlie Miner offered to stay behind to meet with a delegation from the Edmonton Sun. The Edmonton newspaper wants to install vending boxes for their papers in Drayton Valley.

CRIME STOPPERS

RCMP. Drayton Valley are looking for assistance regarding a serious hit and run accident which occurred on May 1, 1985 10 miles west of Drayton Valley on Secondary Highway 820 (Lodgepole Highway).

A westbound Ford pickup driven by a Lodgepole resident was sideswiped by a 1975-80 light blue Chev pickup, which was travelling east-bound in the wrong lane of travel. The driver and passenger in the Ford vehicle were very lucky to have escaped without injury. After the collision, the driver of the blue Chev pickup sped off with no offer of assistance to the occupants of the Ford vehicle.

The Chev pickup should have damage along the driver's side of the vehicle, possibly the side view mirror has been ripped off.

Crime Stoppers will pay a cash reward for information leading to the arrest of any of the persons responsible for this offence. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call Crime Stoppers toll-free at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity and if your information leads to an arrest you qualify for a reward.

ALL-Jersey
 THANKS TO: -

At Last!

Cheddar Cheese the way it used to be!

We've all heard older folk tell us that this or that product "is not what is used to be..." When it comes to Canadian Cheddar Cheese, it has been only too true. Although some very fine cheddar is now being produced in Canada, thirty or forty years ago, the very best Canadian cheddar was made from All-Jersey milk. (Remember all those posters of "Bible" the cow? Else was a Jersey!)

Research at the University of Guelph has shown that Jersey milk contains a higher average content of all the essential milk constituents, especially protein, when compared with milk from other breeds. It also contains more carotene than milk from most other breeds. Carotene is converted by the human body into Vitamin A (lack of Vitamin A can cause blindness and carotene has been credited with preventing deterioration of human eyesight) and has a distinctive colour, even when no colour has been added during manufacture!

It won't enable you to see in the dark, but cheddar made from All-Jersey milk has a light golden colour, even when it has been skimmed to 20%. When the whole milk is used to make cheddar cheese, the result is wonderful!

Now, a group of Jersey cattle breeders in Alberta have got together and arranged with a factory to buy a cheesemaker with many years of experience in Europe and Canada, to produce cheddar from milk guaranteed to be All-Jersey, just like it used to be!

At present, Alberta is the only province in Canada where milk producer regulations allow this to happen. But once the Alberta All-Jersey Cheddar is sampled in other provinces every cheese producer in Canada will want to get in on the action!

No matter what happens along these lines, it will be many months before All-Jersey cheddar becomes available in other provinces, if only because of the aging which must take place before cheddar may be called "Medium," or "Old," or "Sharp!"

And this is right, especially when the unique character of this gorgeous All-Jersey Cheddar cheese is taken into consideration.

It's available in 300 gm. (approx.) packages of coloured and "White" Mild, Medium and Old (Sharp), and in 2.27 kg (5 lb.) blocks (no "White" Old blocks yet available, but coming soon!)

Dunn and Lindquist vow marriage

By LeOpal Larsson
388-2122

Congratulations to Rick Dunn and Trudy Lindquist who were married at Barrhead July 27. Guests attending from this area were Rudy and Vera Brzus, Rose and Lloyd Alcock and Ruby Woods.

Sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Wanda Dickson who died July 28.

Sympathy is also extended to Ed Bennington and family on the death of his wife Minnie (Matousek) at Hudson Hope, B.C. July 27. Minnie was born on a homestead south of Buck Lake in February, 1923.

Three hundred and twenty family members, relatives and friends gathered July 7 at the Buck Lake Hall to help George and Barbara McLeod celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

Everyone enjoyed a steak barbecue, ball games, horseshoes and videos.

The two-tiered wedding cake was done in off-white icing with ruby-red roses. The top was imported hand-blown glass.

The hall decorating, preparation and serving was done by their children and their families and friends.

George and Barbara would like to thank all their family and friends for making this such a special day and the money they received is being used to purchase patio furniture.

Congratulations to Bob and Kathy

Well, like it or not, our old enemy "nitrate poisoning" is close at hand. Nitrate poisoning is a problem when plants are under stress. Not surprisingly, all of our problems from drought to grasshoppers put plants under stress. Even spraying with herbicides or insecticides can stop a plant from growing for a short time.

Any time a plant stops growing, the roots keep on taking food from the soil. Since the plant is still alive it stores the food for when it starts growing again.

When cattle eat this forage, either green, in silage or as hay, the stored plant food is converted to nitrates. Nitrates are absorbed into the blood stream of the cattle and damage the blood's ability to carry oxygen. The verdict is death by suffocation.

Death by nitrate poisoning is not rare. We hear of a number of cases each year. Some are even quite dramatic. In one case 228 cattle died out of a herd of 390. To make matters worse, 42 of the survivors aborted.

The rate of abortion in surviving cattle is too high to overlook. There are other problems, also.

Dr. Eustace, Dr. Cookson and would like to welcome

Dr. Michael Gault

to

The Towers
Medical Clinic

Dr. Gault and his family have emigrated from Great Britain and are planning to make their home in Drayton Valley.

Milk production can be dramatically reduced.

Even resistance to disease may be lowered.

Enough doom-and-gloom! What can we do about nitrates in feed? A good start is to identify which feed is affected. A standard feed test (which you take anyway, right?) lists the nitrate content of each feed sample.

A second possibility is to have your livestock rations checked. This is a free service through our office. Based on your feed samples we can calculate the amount of nitrate in an animal's total diet. High nitrate feeds can be fed as part, not all, of a ration depending on how much nitrate is present.

Third, when you do feed high nitrate feeds, feed small amounts. Smaller quantities of nitrate, fed over time, are easier for an animal to cope with than one large amount once a day.

Fourth, avoid non-protein nitrogen supplements. These are nitrate-based and can aggravate the situation.

There are other actions you can take, but remember we have to identify the high nitrate feeds first. Feed samples are easy to take and heavily subsidized. Stop in at the office for sample kits.

Off the topic but of great interest...We have finally received the brochures and application forms for the Grasshopper Control Assistance Program. For further information stop by our office in the Provincial Building or call us at 542-5368.

Thrift shop at United Church reopens

By Shell Carson
(WV-2020)

Congratulations to Dorothy Buchanan and Bill Baumann on winning the gold in bowling and snooker, respectively, at the Zone 5 Senior Games held at Barrhead recently.

The Rundle Mission annual barbecue, sponsored by the Telfordville Pastoral Church, was held Aug. 10.

The thrift shop in the United Church basement reopened Aug. 9 from 2 to 4 p.m. and will continue to operate every Friday at this time.

Faith Covenant Church will be hosting Vacation Bible School Aug. 19 to 23 from 7 to 9:14 p.m. There will be a children's program for ages three to Grade 6 as well as a program which would be of interest to young people and adults. Guest speakers for the adult program are Dan and Dawn Fullerton from Prince Albert, Sask. By invitation for children two years and under will be provided.

On July 21 Dwayne Chapin and his family travelled to Craven, Sask. to the Big Valley Jam-boree where Dwayne was guest artist fiddler for an audience of 70,000 people. The jamboree was held on a half-section of land with a standing-room-only crowd. Other artists included Charlie Pride, Dotty West, The Oakridge Boys, and many others. Dickie Dameron and Dwayne were the only Canadian artists. Dwayne had supper with Dotty West's band and found everyone very personable and reports he was treated very well.

After Dwayne's performance he had a surprise visit backstage from Lyle and Daphne Oulton who were in Craven for the jamboree.

The Prentice family reunion was held July 6-7

The 27th Greaves family reunion was held at Moon Lake Hall on Saturday, Aug. 10. Eighty family members attended, plus five guests. Two special family members were Ted and Marjorie Woodland from Nottingham, England. Ted is a first cousin.

Golfing started the day for those who wished to play. First prize for ladies was won by Marjorie Wolf. Men's first was a tie between Les Tucker and Ray Broadbent.

The horseshoe pitch was won by Ray Wieting and Ken Bills. Races for all ages followed and then a ball game for young and old.

This family of famous cooks supplied a delicious meal.

New brochure

Doug Woodhouse, manager of the Evergreen Tourist Association, shows off a new brochure. The first of 25,000 copies were distributed in Drayton Valley last week.

D.V. Highlights

A special presentation was made by Johnny Bills to the visiting cousins from England.

May and Nick Urchysyn came from Sumnerland, B.C. for the occasion.

Among the local family names we find Greaves, Tucker, Bills, Broadbent, Urchysyn, Hutzel, Jensen, Jevne and Wieting.

Carl Anderson, one of our earliest pioneers, celebrated his 80th birthday July 28.

Two hundred people gathered at the Elks Hall for a program of music and singing. Lil Ross and Mary Aytote led the senior citizens band. A musical number given by Clarence Sjerdahl, Carl Anderson and Leonard Olney was especially well received.

Howard Ganske was master of ceremonies for the occasion. He called on Earl Kelly, Roy Sjerdahl and Rev. Heinemann, who spoke briefly.

Carl Anderson came to Drayton Valley as a child with his parents. He was a pupil in the first school. He married Rachael Sjerdahl and raised a family of two boys — Albert and Arnold.

Now a widower, Carl makes his home at Shangri-La Lodge.

Family and close friends came from Sumnerland, Edmonton, Innisfree, Calgary, Warner, Edson, Grande Prairie, Chetwynd, B.C., Beaumont, Sherwood Park, Silver Valley, Spruce Grove, Stony Plain and Taber.

The Royal Purple catered the meal.

The family presented their father and grandfather with a watch.

Best wishes for many more happy birthdays, Carl.

It is of special interest to many people here that Clarence and Martha Sjerdahl, now of Grande Prairie, will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary in December.

Upcoming will be the Combs family reunion at Rocky Rapids. The connection is a large one. We were told that one Combs son, Erwin, has 125 descendants coming and that's not all!

Eva Wapshott has been a patient in the local hospital for the last two weeks. Mrs. Wapshott has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances because of her work with her church and the hospital auxiliary thrift shop.

Best wishes for a happy future go to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clemmer who were married July 20.

Remember Mrs. McGuigan, affectionately known as Mrs. Mac? Her many friends here will be happy to hear that she is coming back to live in the new senior citizens' apartments this fall.

A phone call last week brought the welcome news that Jack and Ivy Popow will be moving back to this district as soon as they have sold their property on Vancouver Island. For some years the couple lived at Violet Grove where Jack had a car body shop repair business and Ivy gained wide recognition as an artist.

Fewer than a dozen people took advantage of a workshop held in the office of the district home economist recently to learn about preparing exhibits for the fair. The speaker, Mr. Shewchuk, gave his audience many helpful hints.

A lawn bridal shower was held at the home of Dennice Melin Aug. 6 to honor Brenda Pye and Dan Nowochin.

The bridal table, adorned with a lace cloth, featured vases of fresh geranias and a beautifully decorated cake made by Cindy Bierkos of Drayton Valley. Assisting Brenda were Anita Maciborsky, Vicky McPherson, and Robin McPherson. Lunch was served by hostesses Dennice Melin and Bev Clemmer.

The wedding will be Aug. 24 at Wetaskiwin. Get well wishes to Joyce Hayduk who had the misfortune of breaking her ankle.

Best wishes go to Dick Clemmer and Anne Parenteau on their marriage July 20. The couple will be residing in Leduc.

Our community hall has taken on a new look with the installation of floor tile throughout the building, plus the washrooms have had ceramic tile put on the walls.

Hans and Iris Veljkar of Fort St. James, B.C. arrived here the later part of July to visit and attend a family reunion. They brought their grandson Dean along and while here enjoyed an outing at Medicine Lake.

Harold and Bernice Johnson spent the long weekend in Calgary where they watched the ladies' provincial football games and visited the Percy and Randy Hoffins and an old friend they hadn't seen for many years, Orlene Stevens.

The Torches, the team our daughter Debbie plays on, won the silver medal in the intermediate B division.

Three Alder Flats students - Sherry Hoffin, Grade 12 graduate; Mark MacLean, Grade 11 and Kevin Moore, Grade 10 - had a great time and experiences when they were participants of a summer program at the Terry Fox Centre in Ottawa from July 8-19.

They left for Ottawa on the 7th from the International Airport. All three had a great time and will treasure all the wonderful memories and the friendships they made.

Sherry would like to take this opportunity to thank her sponsors: Westward Oilfield Service, Western Enterprises Sand and Gravel, Ricky Hoffin, Duane Hoffin, May Orr, Dale, Jean and Tamie Sargeant.

The Covenant Bible School had a good week from July 22-28 with more than 50 children enrolled for the week's activities.

They had fun making crafts, singing and listening to bible stories told by the two summer missionaries Carla Jackson from Alliance and Nola Barr from Three Hills, and Pastor Mark Johnson did the missionary story. The other helpers assisting with crafts, etc. were Eva Drader, Josie Dodman, Gladys Maciborsky, Kari Drader, Richelle Fitzgerald and Brenda Hoffin. Paul Simon and Bev Maclean also did a lot of the preparation work. A special thank you to Agnes Schuette for the birds nest plants she gave the workers and the plants for the craft planters the children made. Also a special thanks to the Alder Flats Community Association for the free use of the facilities.

Ted and Bev Maclean enjoyed a relaxing, sight-seeing trip to Cold Lake and Lac LaBiche July 14-19. They, along with Norman, Lorraine, Kevin and Kyla Moore, Sheila Borie, Leigh and Maf Miller and Ray Tompkins, went trail riding at the Ya Ha Tinda Ranch, west of Sundre, July 21-26.

Dennis, Lois, Jocelyn and Craig Maciborsky loaded up their camper and were off on holidays from July 12-21. They visited relatives at Pincher Creek and attended her uncle's wedding. They then travelled to B.C.

Sympathy goes out to Audrey and Paul Rainer and family on the death of her mother, Wanda Dickenson.

Our community has been saddened by the deaths of former residents and friends of the area.

Our sympathy goes out to the families and relatives of Helen Hatfield (Forchuk) who died July 21.

Sympathy also goes out to Jean Sluchinski and family on the death of her husband Paul. Funeral services were held at the Poplar Valley Church July 23, with interment at Wetaskiwin.

Sympathy also is extended to the families of Mrs. Strynadka and the Stredick family on the death of their baby. Services were held in the Alder Flats Covenant Church with Pastor Mark Johnston officiating.

Jean Sargeant and her mother, Marion Hall, took a bus trip to Prince Rupert, B.C. where they visited her brother James and wife Donald. Joe-dene Sargeant is spending a few days with her grandparents, Ivan and Hazel Sargeant at Mirror, while Robbie Sargeant of Alix is here with Dale and Jean during Joe-dene's absence.

Lois and Bernice Johnson attended a PC leadership and directors meeting in Drayton Valley July 24.

We welcome the Dodman family, Norman, Josie and children to our community. They purchased the Zukiwski trailer and moved here the first part of July. Josie is a former Alder Flats girl and the daughter of Joe and Lil Zingle.

Debbie Holmes had the pleasure of seeing the Queen Mother when she visited the University hospital.

Marni Jaquest, a Grade 9 teacher from the Alder Flats school, appeared on ITV July 15 as a guest on the "It's a New Day" program which originates from Winnipeg.

Besides teaching, Jaquest has a great love of music. As a musician she composes, sings and is an accomplished guitarist. On the program she shared her Christian faith and sang and played one of the first songs she composed in 1980. Jaquest has taught in the Alder Flats school for one year and will be returning for another term.

Tom and Val Rauch, a vocal duo, presented a gospel concert at the Legion Hall July 11. They are travelling to approximately 250 evangelical churches throughout North America under the auspices of the Prairie Bible Institute.

Anna Aitenhofer of Edmonton and her brother and sister-in-law from Switzerland were visitors with Morris and Eileen Dunn, Connie and Al MacLean and visited their homestead before travelling on to Hoadley to visit more friends, on July 9.

Myck witnesses clan gathering

By Alma Johnson
727-2512

The matriarch, Johanna Myck, was able to witness the gathering of her clan when the Myck family held their family reunion at the Moon Lake Hall park Aug. 3.

Moon Lake News

Family members came from as close as a half-mile down the road to as far away as half-way around the world. Special guest was her daughter Elsie and husband Des Rudman of New Zealand.

The gathering included her 11 immediate children, but out of 37 grandchildren only 24 could attend. There were 17 great grandchildren in attendance out of a total of 37. The group ranged in age from 88 years to 5½ weeks old.

Good food, along with horseshoe tournaments, ball games and plenty of sunshine, made the day a huge success. Some families brought trailers, campers and motorhomes and camped in the park. A king-size bonfire, along with sparklers, flares and plenty of music, wound up the evening.

Stan and Margaret Woloszyn went to the oldtime fiddle competition at Wabamun recently.

Open house was held at the hall to celebrate Leo Jensen's 80th birthday July 21. A very good turnout made the day most enjoyable.

A baby shower for David Robert Banks was held July 24 at hall.

Recent visitors at the Norm and Glenn Johnson homes were John Lutz of Warner, AB, Ralph and Colleen Johnson and family of Lloydminster and Irene Johnson of Kelowna, B.C.

Brightwood Cemetery had its grass cutting bee again on the evening of July 23.

Some locals attended the Grand Trunk School reunion held at the Entwistle hall July 27. All report that they had a good visit with old friends.

The Glen Jacksons were visitors at the home of his uncle, Jack and Christina Robinson, recently.

Michelle McRae hosted a Tupperware party July 24.

The sewer system at the hall is being fixed and hopefully, will work properly from now on.

Margaret Woloszyn has her sister, Elsie and her husband, visiting from New Zealand.

Congratulations to Randy and Shirley Law who were married Aug. 3 in Evansburg. A wedding reception and party followed on the lawn at the Ron and Allen Woloszyn ranch.

A number of local couples enjoyed the parade at Pemblins Valley Dase in Evansburg Aug. 3.

Norm and Glenn Johnson attended the Caine Cattle Co. dispersion sale of polled Herefords at Ledue Aug. 3.

George and Bea Cherrington and family have returned from a holiday at Cold Lake.

Larry and Maryann Law and family attended the wedding of a niece in Edmonton Aug. 3.

Dick and Zetta McRae also attended the wedding of a relative Aug. 3.

Congratulations to Rollie Urkivich and Shirley Ingersoll who were married in Drayton Valley July 6. They travelled to Kamloops for a brief honeymoon.

A number of area couples attended the wedding of Teri Peden and Bruce Robinson in Entwistle July 6.

The Stepaniuk family held a family reunion and open house at the hall July 6 and 7.

Finally relaxing after 40 years in the mill

After working 40 years in the sawmill, Gordon Gillespie is ready to relax.

When asked how much time he put in at the mill, Gillespie visably became tense and got ready to curse. "It was nothing to put in 16 hours," he explained.

Gillespie bought his mill near Carnwood just after the Second World War with a government loan at 3½ per cent interest.

'One piece at a time'

Having been in the C Fourth Highlanders, which he joined in Calgary, Gillespie went to Sicily. There, he got a bullet in the knee. After spending the remainder of the war in the United Kingdom, Gillespie returned to Alberta and "bought the mill as I could afford it. Buying one piece at a time."

"It seems like a long time and yet no time. She goes fast," he said.

Gillespie, 63 years old, is "kind of semi-retired", still doing some custom planing with one of the few pieces of equipment not sold. "And I find I'd just as soon get out of that now, too," he explained.

Gillespie driving the company's skidder which was recently sold to his son.

Along with running the sawmill, which he owned privately, Gillespie has built about a dozen houses in the area.

This includes the house Gillespie has occupied for the last two years in Violet Grove.

"Right from the shingles down was produced in my own mill," he stated.

Gillespie also built a very elaborate dairy barn for himself, but commented he "never liked cattle, and horses less."

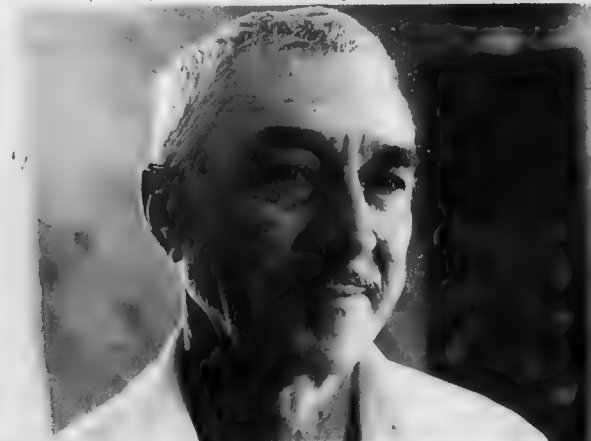

Gillespie explained as a child, horses were used for work as they did not have tractors, not like today when people have horses as pets.

Two years after the war, Gillespie married Irene and they had four daughters and a son. The couple now have eight grandsons and one granddaughter.

When thinking of all the time spent working, Gillespie said, "I'm sure it's not worth it. If a fellow can't make it in eight hours, he should settle for what he's got."

Callander hired at Beehive

The Beehive Workshop in Drayton Valley is gaining a new staff member.

Kristin Callander, of Calgary, has been hired to start her job as a program coordinator Aug. 19.

According to Ren Szala, spokesman for the Beehive, Callander will be responsible for setting up personal programs for the handicapped.

These will include everything from increasing attention span, to budgeting, speech, reading "and everything in between."

Callander has a degree in human resources and a background in working with the handicapped.

Seniors complex is almost ready

Local seniors are still waiting for word on when they can move into the new senior citizens residence in Drayton Valley.

Joan Pruden, of the Wishing Well, said "they should let us know one month ahead" so the new residents can give legal notice at their current living places.

The original moving date was to be Sept. 1, but Pruden said there is apparently a "lot of little things to be done," which is holding up the opening date.

The complex has 17

one-bedroom apartments.

"We'll probably fill it, then see if there is a waiting list."

Oldest industry

Freezing fish slows but doesn't prevent deterioration

By Bev Brooks

Fishing is the oldest industry in Canada with more than two billion pounds of fish caught annually for market. Besides being a business industry however, fishing has become a popular sport during the summer season.

A "good catch" doesn't end with the fish being pulled into the boat or onto shore. Freshly caught fish are highly perishable with the quality beginning to deteriorate soon after the fish is caught. Changes such as softening of the muscle tissue causing deterioration in texture and flavor, growth of bacteria and off-odors occur very quickly if the fish is held at warm temperatures. Further deterioration occurs by rough handling causing the flesh to bruise and internal organs to rupture.

Freshly caught fish should be chilled as soon as possible by packing them in flaked or finely crushed ice. Canada's Department of Fisheries and Oceans suggests you place the fish, bellies uppermost, between layers of ice in a clean container, preferably one with drainage holes in its base. Limit the layers of fish to four in any one container to avoid excessive pressure on the bottom layer. Cover the fish with ice and refrigerate or hold in a cool area until they can be processed. If ice is not available to you immediately, wrap the fish and store in a cool area. The holding period of non-eviscerated fish should be kept to an absolute minimum.

Initial processing of the fish includes dressing (that is, eviscerating and removing gills), scaling, filleting, skinning and boning. After this is done, the fish must be preserved or eaten.

Freezing and canning are the most commonly practiced means of extending the shelf-life of freshwater fish. Of the two, freezing is the easier and safer method.

FREEZING slows the deterioration of fish but doesn't completely prevent deterioration. Chemical and physical changes still take place in frozen fish causing them to lose quality and eventually become unpalatable. To maintain good quality, a constant storage temperature of -18°C (0°F), the average temperature of a home freezer, or lower is recommended. Raising the temperature above -18°C for just short periods damages their quality.

Quality deteriorates with holding time. The recommended length of STORAGE for:

- lean species — up to six months
- medium-fat species — up to four months
- fatty species — up to two months

Be sure the fish is placed in a suitable air-tight covering to prevent moisture loss during freezing. HOME CANNING involves sealing the fish in a container to exclude air and heating to destroy spoilage organisms. This can only be accomplished by heating the sealed container in a pressure canner for a specified time at a specified pressure. Canning fish by other methods such as open kettle canning, hot water bath canning, and oven canning is UNSAFE and may result in serious food poisoning.

Fish, like other meats, is classified as a low-acid food. Because certain dangerous spoilage organisms can exist in low-acid foods, they must be processed in a pressure canner. A pressure canner reaches temperatures of up to 250°F whereas the boiling water bath can only reach 212°F. For complete destruction of the bacteria spore in fish or low-acid foods, it requires sustained exposure to a temperature of 115.6°C (240°F) or higher. This temperature can only be reached under pressure.

FAME

BIG IDEAS — Emmanuel Lewis may be only 14 years old, but the "Webster" star has already formed his own production company and is starring in the firm's first project, a TV movie entitled "Lost in London" that will be broadcast on CBS.

Lynne Moody and Ben Varsen (who plays Lewis's uncle on "Webster") will co-star, along with three foam-rubber doubles of Lewis (operated by cables and levers). So far, these doubles have been knocked down by a powerful gust of water, fallen through the shaky flooring of an old stable, pedaled a doomed bicycle and clung by the finger tips to the roof of the Coliseum.

Despite his size, Lewis obviously has big ideas. When he was asked about the kinds of projects he'd like to undertake, he replied with one succinct word: "Hits."

ALL IN THE NAME — Fall production has geared up, and even established series are jumping all over each other in an effort to lure big names on board.

Barbara Carrera, who is probably best remembered as James Bond's stunning nemesis in "Never Say Never Again," has joined the cast of "Dallas." She will play Angelico Nero, an executive officer of a foreign shipping company who comes to Dallas on business. No word yet on whether she will catch J.R.'s roving eye.

Lorne Lutz is joining the cast of "Trapper John, M.D." Miss Lutz, of course, is the daughter of Judy Garland and half-sister of Liza Minnelli, but she has, as yet, been unable to approach the success of her better-known relatives. She has been plugging away for a number of years, but all she has to show for it so far are prominent roles in such box-office disasters as "Grease II" and "Where the Boys Are '84."

Maybe "Trapper John," on which she will play nurse Libby Hegler (a newly created role), will turn the tide.

And Mary Ann Mobley, wife of Gary Collins and a former Miss America, has joined the cast of "Different Strokes," which moves over to ABC this fall. She will play Maggie McKinney, the wife of Philip Drummond (Conrad Beck).
